Depends on Tax Collection

School System May End Year In Black

The financial deficit which has plagued Salem City Schools for the past four years is apparently on its way to being wiped out.

D. M. Fadely, assistant superintendent of schools, reported to the Board of Education Monday night that if personal property tax collections for the second half of 1961 equal the collections for the second half of 1960, Salem City Schools would be able to finish the year with a slight balance.

If this is accomplished, it would mean the school administration will have succeeded not only in operating the schools in the black this year but that a $69,969.68 deficit carried over from 1960 will have been erased.

"Everything hinges on what the personal property tax collection is," Board Clerk Wallace King stated. He pointed out that the big thing to fear is the possibility that the actual collections from personal property taxes may be less than anticipated for the second-half.

"No one has the answer to that question right now," King said. He did point out that first half collections from personal property taxes were down $6,000 from the first six months of 1960.

"If the second-half collections are down a proportionate amount, then we are in trouble," King remarked. He explained though that in the past, the tendency has been for the second-half collection to be greater than the first half.

Expenses Are Normal

Fadely told Board members that spending by the schools so far this year is running right at the anticipated rate. "If we get all the money we were allowed to appropriate, we will be in good shape by the end of the year," Fadely commented.

King said that the final settlement from real estate taxes this year has been received and that the total collection for 1961 was about $2,000 more than was received from this source last year.

If the second-half personal property tax collections do come up to expectations and the schools can finish up the year with a balance, it will mark the first time since 1958 that the schools have closed a year with black ink.

Actually it was in 1958 that the financial ills in the schools here began. The schools spent more money than they took in from various sources that year and only a balance of more than $50,000 carried over from the previous year kept them from closing 1958 without a deficit.

It was in 1958 that the new Senior High School began operation and the increased costs of operating that building, including the hiring of new personnel, had a great deal to do with depleting the surplus which had been carried over from 1957 in the general fund.

It was known that operating costs would rise in 1959 with the new building and a change in the teacher salary schedule, so a 1.9-mill levy was submitted to the voters.

Deficit Was $138,000

Although this levy was approved, several unforeseen factors developed and the schools finished 1959 with a whopping $138,000 deficit.

The deficit came about because of a sharp increase in the cost of operating the schools which came on top of a drastic reduction in anticipated revenue.

For one thing, local taxes fell short of anticipation by some $30,000 because of the loss of personal property values at Youngstown Kitchens. At the same time, the State Foundation, instead of producing an increase of about $20,000, actually showed a loss of a little more than $10,000.

Since 1959 the schools have been struggling to get out from under the burden of that huge deficit. In financial planning for 1960, the Board of Education faced the following facts:

1. A deficit of $138,000.
2. A further increase in salaries, primarily teachers, of about $65,000, including $17,500 increased retirement contributions.
3. A student population increase of about 85 to cost about $20,000 more than the previous year.

Emergency Levy OK'd

The Board of Education felt that a two-year application of 4.5 mills would clear up the deficit and enable the system to regain an even keel financially. So, a two-year emergency levy was submitted to the voters. Once again the people of Salem rallied in support. The 4.5-mill emergency levy was passed for the calendar years 1960 and 1961.

After the 4.5-mill levy expires, it will be replaced by a 4-mill levy which was approved by the voters last May. This decrease of one-half mill means that the schools will be operating on approximately $25,000 less next year. The Board of Education indicated that it could operate the schools at least another year on this reduction.

It would appear that the generosity of Salem voters and the stewardship of the administrative staff and the Board of Education are about to pull the School System out of its financial woes. It is the hope of Supt. Paul E.

American-Standard's Sale Effective Oct. 31

Salem, Warren Plants Involved In Transaction

Potter, Morey Head Purchasing Group; Price $8 Million

The American Radiator & Standard Sanitary Corporation's announcement late Monday that it has entered into a contract for the sale of its local Youngstown Kitchens Division to a newly-formed group is expected to strengthen manufacturing operations at the Salem plant.

The Kitchens Division will revert to its original name of the Mullins Manufacturing Co.

Principals of the purchasing group are Robert Potter of Canton, chairman of the board of the E. W. Bliss Co., and Leonard Morey, president of the J. M. Lehmann Co. Inc. of New York.

The consideration and value of the assets of the Salem and Warren factories are to be determined at the closing date on Oct. 31. American-Standard announced, but the purchase price in cash and mortgage notes is expected to be between $7-million and $8-million.

New Products To Be Made

The introduction of new product lines is expected to simulate operations at the local factory, Mr. Potter told The News today, augmenting the diversified steel stampings business already carried on.

Mills and other machinery for the rubber, paint, plastics and food industries will be made by Mullins, this to be made possible by patents held by the Lehmann Co.

Mr. Potter, who is a former Salem resident, was vice president and general manager of the Bliss Company's Rolling Mill division.

55 Arrested As Police Prevent Racial Flareup

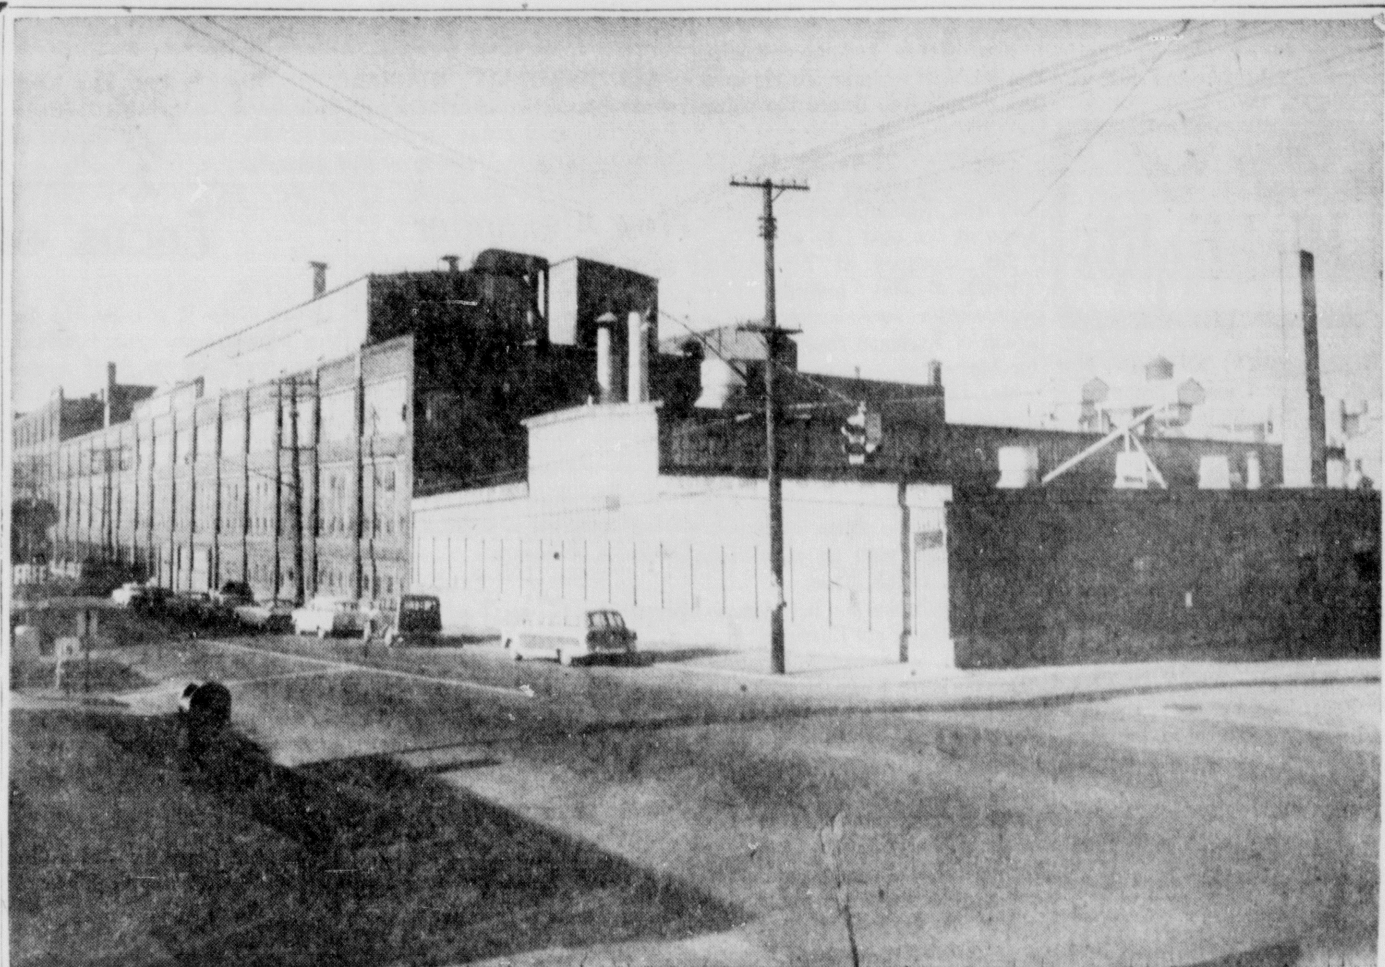

By The Associated Press
A stink bomb tossed into a group of Negro students picketing a movie theater in Knoxville, Tenn., was the only act of violence reported on a day in which racial controversy was handled largely in the courts.

Police arrested 54 young Negroes and a white girl Monday night on disorderly conduct charges as they were parading in front of three downtown Knoxville theaters. A white youth was arrested on similar charges for throwing the stink bomb.

The demonstrators tried to purchase tickets to the theaters. When refused, they formed circles and marched by the windows chanting "Tickets please."

Police Capt. Neal Long said the arrests were made after the demonstrators refused to move on. "The situation had gotten to the point where there was a high possibility that trouble was going to erupt," he said.

Residents Express Blessings, Fondest Hopes

'Mullins,' Name Interwoven In City's History, Returns to Salem Scene

Mullins — a name interwoven in Salem's history for many years — returns to the local industrial scene today with the blessings and fondest hopes of local citizens.

Most persons expressed gratification today over the announcement of the American Radiator & Standard Sanitary Corporation's sale of its plant here (formerly Mullins) and the American-Standard plant in Warren to a new industrial group headed by Robert Potter, chairman of the board of the E. W. Bliss Co. and at one time officer in charge of Bliss' Rolling Mill Division here.

American-Standard was forced to put its "Youngstown Kitchens" Division holdings here and at Warren up for sale a year ago after the government filed an anti-trust action against the parent company.

THE NAME MULLINS was synonymous with Salem for 84 years — from 1872 to 1956, the year that the American-Standard chapter began to be written.

It was in 1872 that Will Mullins, then 25, bought an interest in the Kittredge Cornice Works and 10 years later reorganized as Bakewell and Mullins, excelling at sheetmetal statuary and cornice work. In 1890 he borrowed $50,000 from his father-in-law and bought out Bakewell and the firm became known as "W. H. Mullins."

Its employment through the years has ranged from 100 to a peak of several thousand during World War II. When the City of Salem observed its sesquicentennial in 1956 employment totaled about 1,700 but the number on the payroll has declined considerably since American-Standard concentrated its Youngstown Kitchens production at Warren, leaving the Salem factory to fill contract stamping orders.

IT WAS BACK IN 1910 that the W. H. Mullins Company became known as the Mullins Body Corporation and then, in 1927, the Mullins Manufacturing Company. Mullins products have mirrored the eras of American life through which it has passed. First it was decorative metal cornice work, store fronts and ceilings of the post-Civil War days; then statuary and ornate decorative figures and shapes cherished during the Victorian era.

Next came the famed Mullins steel boats.

With arrival of the automobile, Mullins became a major producer of auto parts and auto bodies.

It helped usher in modern home appliances by developing the

France, W. Germany May Okay More Talks

WASHINGTON (AP) — France and West Germany are expected to give reluctant approval to further Washington-Moscow talks aimed at a Berlin settlement. The exchanges would be at the ambassadorial level.

However, the French and West Germans reportedly would prefer to hold off on further East-West exploratory contacts until the Western powers agree to a united approach to the Berlin problem.

This was made clear by diplomatic sources after the Western ambassadorial steering group met for 3½ hours Monday night with Foy D. Kohler, assistant secretary of state.

The British, French and West German envoys and their aides have been meeting almost daily with Kohler, head of the State Department's task force for Germany.

Diplomatic sources, in disclosing the French and West German views, conceded that the gap between the thinking in Washington, London, Paris and Bonn was not bridged when the Western foreign ministers met here in September.

To underline the French position, Ambassador Herve Alphand, who attended Monday night's meeting, also saw Secretary of State Dean Rusk alone. Alphand and the other envoys were not available for comment after the conference.

The European Allies were briefed on the recent conferences between Rusk and Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko and the two-hour meeting last Friday between President Kennedy and Gromyko.

U.S. officials were reported to have told the diplomats they do not share the German and French assessments of the Gromyko talks. Specifically, some Washington authorities disagree with Wilhelm Greve, the German ambassador, who said on Sunday that the Kennedy-Gromyko meeting seemed to him "a step backward."

The talks with Gromyko, these officials said, represented neither

Absentee, Disabled Ballots Are Issued

The Columbiana County Election Board Monday started issuance of civilian absentee and disabled voters' ballots for the Nov. 7 general election.

Four of the "early" ballots were issued yesterday. Both types of civilian ballots will be available until 4 p.m. Nov. 2. To be counted at the polls on election day, they must be back in the board's hands by noon, Friday, Nov. 3.

The absentee ballots are for persons who will be outside Columbiana County and at least 10 miles from their home precinct on election day. The disabled voters' ballots are for persons unable to get to the polls because of illness or disability.

The Election Board has scheduled a special meeting tonight to arrange for printing the text of a municipal charter plan on which Salem will vote Nov. 7. Since the text of the proposal is too long to be printed in its entirety on these ballots, the board will take the alternative of posting copies of the measure in each of the 23 polling places.

Castro Claims New U.S. Plot

Says Nation Trains Invasion Troops

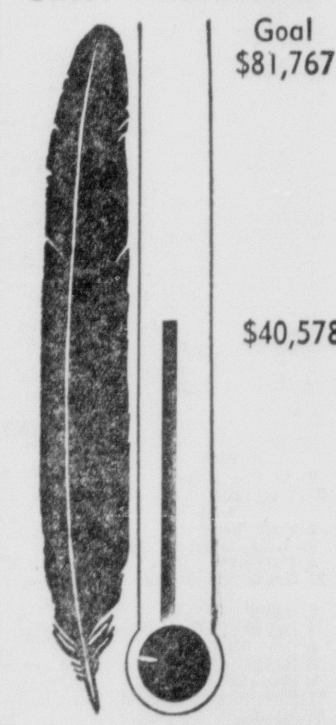

HAVANA (AP) — Fidel Castro's regime accused the United States Monday night of training invasion forces at 20 U.S. bases and nine Caribbean points for another assault on Cuban shores. It said the forces included paratroops and were stronger than those cut down in the abortive landings last April.

Acting Foreign Minister Carlos Olivares called in the diplomatic corps to press the charges in a 1,600-word note. He claimed the invasion training network extended from Guantanamo Bay to the Panama Canal Zone. He contended that 500 paratroopers were among the forces being readied in Panama.

Olivares asserted that a number of Central-American governments were involved and that the United States was setting the stage for invasion by trying to disrupt relations between Cuba

$1,603 More For UF Is Reported

A collection of $1,603.04 Tuesday moved Salem's United Fund Drive to within $305.22 of the half-way mark of its goal.

A total of $40,578.28 in cash and pledges have been reported so far but only two days remain in the drive to raise $81,767 for 12 "red feather" agencies and the Red Cross.

Campaign officials urge team captains to turn in progress reports at the Red Cross office each morning at 9.

Education Courses Planned for Adults

Adult education courses in art, Spanish and woodworking will get under way at Salem Senior High School next week during the evenings.

Paul E. Smith, superintendent of schools, announced at a Board of Education meeting at Junior High School last night that the classes will operate only if at least 15 persons register for each class. The fees have been set at $15 for 15 weeks.

Supt. Smith explained that if 15 adults sign up for a class, it can be financially operated on a "break-even" basis.

Registration will be conducted during the first evening of classes. Courses which will be available are as follows:

Introduction to art media and technique, Mondays, 7 to 8:30 p.m. Miss Janice Yereb, instructor.

Oil Painting, Tuesdays, 7 to 8:30 p.m. James Pearson, instructor.

Spanish, Mondays and Wednesdays, 7 to 8 p.m. Anthony Monteleone, instructor.

Woodworking, Wednesdays, 7 to 10 p.m. John Oana, instructor.

All of these courses begin next week if enough persons register. Instructors Get $4 Hour

The Board of Education approved a recommendation of Supt. Smith that Trade and Industrial staff teachers be paid at a rate of $4 per hour which is the same as last year. H. W. Cameron, supervisor of the Trades Extension School, had recommended that the rate be increased to $4.50 an hour.

Supt. Smith said the Trade School has been operating at a deficit and the proposed salary increases would have hampered efforts to make the program pay its own way.

The Board also authorized the continued membership of the junior and senior high schools in the

Special Meeting Of Council Called

Mayor Dean B. Crammer has called a special meeting of City Council for 7:30 tonight to consider the city's abandoning Apple Alley from Columbia St. to Peach Alley.

This section of Apple Alley lies on the site where the new post office is to be built. Council's acceptance of the ordinance to abandon the alley is expected to be a formality.

A Council "committee of the whole" meeting is also scheduled for tonight at City Hall. Among the topics to be discussed are:

1. Opening the city reservoir for controlled fishing.
2. The purchase of equipment for the service department.
3. The installation of "walk" and "wait" signs at downtown intersections.

UAW Faces Double Task

Reuther Beset by Ford, AMC Issues

DETROIT (AP) — The United Auto Workers Union today faced the dual task of completing a national contract with Ford Motor Co. by Thursday and smoothing out problems which arose suddenly in its historic profit-sharing agreement with American Motors Corp.

UAW President Walter P. Reuther expressed optimism on both jobs.

He said only two major issues remain at Ford — production standards and a union demand for additional company-paid union representatives to process grievances in Ford plants.

The UAW struck and closed Ford a week ago today. Negotiators reached agreement on an economic package prior to the strike but failed to settle non-economic portions of the contract. Agreement was reached formally Monday night on two major non-economic problems. One concerns the outside contracting of

C. of C. Gives Endorsement To Charter

The Salem Area Chamber of Commerce voted at its monthly luncheon meeting Monday at the Lape Hotel to endorse the city charter.

There were just three dissenting votes from among the approximately 60 members in attendance.

Curtis Vaughan, a former city council president, was one of those who voiced opposition to the charter. Atty. Ralph Atkins said he was not opposed to the charter but he wanted more time to study it. His motion to table the endorsement was defeated.

City Treasurer James Criswell cast one of the dissenting votes.

If the proposed "home rule" charter is adopted by Salem voters at the Nov. 7 general election, one of the major changes from the present system would have the elected offices of city treasurer and auditor abolished and their responsibilities taken over by a director of finance who would be appointed by the mayor. The appointment of a finance director could be rejected by a two-thirds vote of council under

Woman Returns To Russia

Defecting Soviet Chemist,
Wife Part In Netherlands

AMSTERDAM, Netherlands (AP)—A defecting Soviet chemist and his wife separated perhaps forever Monday night after a war of fists and words involving airport police, the Soviet ambassador to the Netherlands and Premier Jan de Quay.

Mrs. Alexei Golub flew home to Moscow, leaving her husband under Dutch protection awaiting asylum. At least one Soviet diplomat and one policeman nursed injuries. Soviet Ambassador Panteleimon K. Ponomarenko, minus a raincoat button from the brawl, threatened "far-reaching consequences" to the Dutch government.

Climax of the day-long quarrel was the final airport meeting between Golub, 35, and his wife.

Dutch public prosecutor J. G. de Zaaijer called it a human tragedy. In the presence of the Soviet ambassador and the public prosecutor, Mrs. Golub told her husband she had to think of her parents at home in the Soviet Union and was leaving without him. The couple has no children.

De Zaaijer said he was convinced the woman had not been coerced.

The Golubs arrived last week with a party of Soviet tourists. The husband, a balding, broad-shouldered man, was taken into custody after he walked out of their hotel Saturday night and announced he wanted asylum in the West.

Mrs. Golub had accompanied her husband when he left his hotel but disappeared before the police arrived.

Monday's arguments resulted from Dutch efforts to make certain the woman was returning home of her own free will.

She appeared at Amsterdam Airport Monday morning with Ambassador Ponomarenko and a group of Russians ready to leave for Moscow.

Mrs. Golub had no passport, her husband having turned it over to the Dutch police. Soviet officials stormed into the airport police headquarters and demanded the passport. Police officer Frits Veltman refused until he could talk with Mrs. Golub alone.

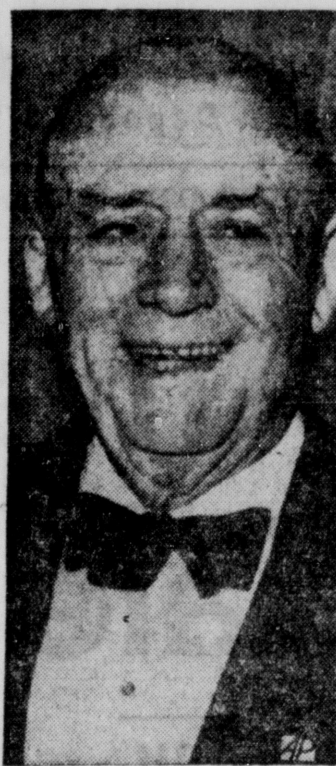

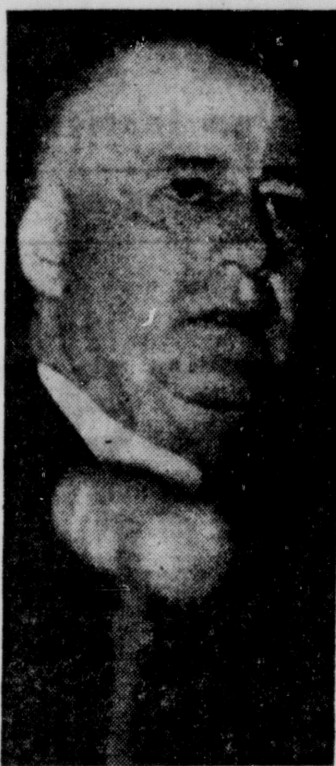

Fighting broke out between six policemen and six Russians. Ponomarenko was heard shouting, "Do you know I am the ambassador? We are Soviet officials." Veltman emerged with a bloody hand. One Soviet attache had a bruised face.

Ponomarenko, onetime member of the Soviet Communist party's secretariat and an alternate member of the Presidium was summoned to the Hague to confer with Premier de Quay. A Foreign Ministry spokesman said the premier and the ambassador agreed during a 30-minute meeting that Mrs. Golub would be asked to state her desires in the presence of Dutch and Soviet officials.

Mrs. Golub and the other tourists finally departed aboard a Soviet jet that had waited 8½ hours for them. Her husband was led away by police who said it was virtually certain he will be given asylum.

President Pays Visit To Slightly Improved Rayburn

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—Ailing Sam Rayburn has probably received the best medicine there is for a lifelong politician: a visit from the President of the United States.

President Kennedy went 3,000 miles out of his way Monday to spend 14 minutes with the 79-year-old speaker of the House who has cancer. The President originally had planned to go directly to Washington from Newport, R.I., where he had spent the weekend.

John Holton, Rayburn's administrative assistant, said: "The entire family was gratified and pleased by the graciousness of the visit. They were pleased indeed."

Holton said Rayburn told him that he and the President discussed everything from politics to world events.

Kennedy told Pierre Salinger, his press secretary, that Rayburn recalled in exact detail the 1934 congressional campaign, comparing it with 1962.

It was in 1934, that, contrary to the usual pattern, the party in power picked up extra House seats in a year in which the president wasn't running. Naturally, Democrats hope that will happen again next fall, and here was Sam Rayburn, on his sickbed, carefully planning ahead.

The man who has been speaker twice as long as anyone else was lying with his head propped up. The President stood for a time, then sat in a chair. Only a nurse was in the room with them.

Rayburn had been told about the visit only a half hour before the President landed.

Kennedy, who said he found Rayburn "somewhat thinner, but extremely lively," kept the visit short in order not to tire the speaker. He left the room to talk with Rayburn's physicians, then went back in to say goodbye.

Not once did newsmen see the President smile.

But if Kennedy was understandably grim, it was by far the brightest day since Rayburn's ailment was diagnosed as cancer last Thursday.

Dr. Ralph Tompsett, chief of internal medicine at Baylor, issued this statement:

"Mr. Sam Rayburn has had his second treatment today with the cancer chemotherapy drug 5-Fluorouracil. He has tolerated the drug very well thus far.

"Although Mr. Rayburn's condition remains serious, he seems definitely symptomatically improved today and feels stronger. When we saw him early this afternoon he was sitting up in bed watching the World Series on television."

Focus on Health

By The Associated Press
What to do if you get the flu, how throat swabs may help stop some heart disease, and a new aid for heart surgeons are subjects for Focus on Health: Flu This Fall?

Health experts warn another flu season approaches. While the chance of an epidemic cannot be predicted, certain protective measures can be taken. Pregnant women, the elderly and people with chronic diseases should be vaccinated.

Here are other suggestions from the Connecticut State Department of Health:

Stay away from sick people. If flu breaks out, keep away from crowds. Be sure to wash your hands well before eating — and don't use glasses or other utensils that others have used. Get plenty of sleep. Avoid being chilled. If you do get sick, call your doctor and go to bed—for your good and the good of others.

Medical Messenger
A new attack against rheumatic fever and rheumatic heart disease involves the Post Office Department.

Chicago doctors are getting throat swab kits suitable for mailing as the latest aid to diagnosing the disease that brings on rheumatic fever. Caught in the early stages it can be cured.

A type of streptococcus germ sets the stage for rheumatic fever. Doctors will be able to take a throat swab from a sick patient, seal it in an envelope and mail it to a laboratory where the type of germ can be identified.

If the specimen is the dangerous kind, the doctor can find out quickly before rheumatic fever has a chance to develop. The mail-in system was devised by the Chicago Heart Association and Board of Health.

Heartbeat Trigger
In the heart there is a critical bundle of nerves which controls the heartbeat.

Some children are born with defective hearts. For surgeons trying to repair those hearts, the heartbeat center is often a hazard.

An operation in which surgeons try to mend a hole between two chambers of the heart comes dangerously close to the heartbeat trigger. Injury occurs in perhaps 10 per cent of these operations and may lead to death.

The Doctor Says

Anti-Diabetic Pills Show Promise

Q—How effective are the pills for diabetes? Are they better than insulin injections?

A—In a study conducted over a 3-year period at the Joslin Clinic, the newest anti-diabetic pill (DBI or phenformin) was found to be 82 per cent effective. And with this splendid accomplishment there were no evidences of toxicity or significant side effects in the 55 patients who participated in these tests.

Of particular interest is the fact that 43 of the 55 patients had previously been taking insulin injections. And of these 43, all but three were able to reduce their daily insulin doses an average of 33 per cent.

In the words of the investigator, "when DBI is properly used and tolerated, there are often (1) increased stability and (2) fewer hypoglycemia reactions (low blood sugar or insulin shock)." As a result, "Some of the patients have been transformed from a precarious and disabling state, hovering between the demerit worlds of uncontrolled diabetes and severe hypoglycemic reactions, to lives of economic and social usefulness."

Needless to say, the use of DBI requires expert supervision by a trained physician.

Q—What can be done for heart irregularities? My heart skips continuously for days and then not at all. My electrocardiogram is normal. My doctor gave me quinidine pills but they did no good. If this keeps up I'll soon be a nervous wreck. Sometimes I fear it will never resume beating.

A—In the first place, an occasional heart irregularity in a person who has a normal electrocardiogram and is otherwise well is no cause for concern.

If you permit this unimportant disturbance to make you a "nervous wreck," you are indulging yourself, at the expense of your family and yourself.

Secondly, the important consideration in the case of the "skipped or dropped beat" is an investigation of its cause.

And frequent causes are excessive intake of caffeine (coffee, tea and especially iced coffee and tea, made much stronger and taken in larger quantities); tobacco poisoning; and the side actions of certain drugs, especially powerful appetite depressants, pep-up pills (dexamine etc.), thyroid extracts and nasal decongestants (inhalations and drops to shrink the swollen membrane).

Q—Is it true that mental retardation can be detected in babies through a urine test?

A—IT is, most certainly. The test is absurdly simple and consists of the appearance of a blue-green to grey-green coloration that appears immediately after the test solution or paper is placed on the wet diaper.

What makes the test of such importance is the fact that babies whose retardation is due to the condition detected in this simple fashion (phenylketonuria) can be greatly helped by dietary means. Your doctor can explain the "low phenylalanine diet."

Fires Can Be Prevented

Fire Prevention Week, sponsored by the National Fire Protection Association is being observed.

Americans are the most pyrotechnical people on earth. We burned up $1,544,200,000 worth of property during 1960, a record dollar loss, according to the National Fire Protection Association. The previous record was $1,439,640,000 in 1959.

NFPA records 2,123,860 fires last year, as against 2,114,360 the year before. Most were the result of carelessness, complacency or indifference.

Residential fires alone in 1960 — 627,100 of them — accounted for $415,800,000 in property damage. The national fire death toll runs at the rate of about 11,500 a year.

Professional fire safety educators tell us that there is no such thing as an accidental fire. Most combustions are started by a match or a defective wall socket. Spontaneous combustion — so-called — is usually a result of carelessness or ignorance.

Much fire knowledge is the result of tragic experience. Schoolhouses once were fire-traps.

The Coconut Grove fire of 1942 in Boston brought about a radical improvement in fire safety standards for night clubs. The Hartford fire of July 6, 1944, in which 165 children and parents perished, showed the peril of circus tents treated with combustible material.

Effective strides in fire prevention have been made in industrial plants — in design, installation of sprinkler systems and automatic fire detection devices. An automated system operated by American District Telegraph in the nation's principal cities protects more than $59 billion in property for 71,000 or more subscribers.

Nevertheless, major fires in industrial plants and facilities last year totaled 133, compared with 113 in 1959. Damage losses increased by $30 million to more than $87.8 million.

One of the most destructive industrial fires of all time was the Triangle factory fire on Washington Place in New York City, March 25, 1911. On the 50th anniversary of that blaze, which took the lives of 146 garment workers, the New York Times commented: "The public outcry that followed this tragedy gave strength to those valiant leaders who first investigated the conditions that made the catastrophe possible and then brought about the 'golden age' of social legislation that set the pace for other states—Alfred E. Smith, Robert F. Wagner, Frances Perkins, Dr. George M. Price, and Rose Schneiderman. Without their indefatigable efforts many more lives would surely have been lost during the past half century."

McNamara Has No Choice

Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara is trapped in a dilemma that has plagued every civilian ever called on to administer military affairs.

It is his duty as civilian secretary of defense to preserve the tradition of civilian control over military departments. The tradition has been a public issue many times since it was laid down at the beginning of the Republic.

The alternative would be to surrender to members of the military establishment the power to dominate government by their authority over the armed services; by force of arms. It was to minimize this danger that the United States avoided the danger implicit in a large professional army. George Washington believed military power should be concentrated in the state militia, separated from overriding federal authority.

From Washington's time on, this policy has been honored. The danger of the military coup d'etat that has plagued other nations has been minimized here.

Secretary McNamara's involvement in the problem has come about because certain military figures, with backing from some members of Congress, have made an issue of the right to make all speeches and distribute all printed matter which they describe as anti-Communist and therefore pro-American. But that is only part of the issue.

The more sensitive part of the issue is whether the ideas promulgated are in line with the policies of the civilian government.

Secretary McNamara's latest move is a directive that spells out precisely what military officials may discuss when called on to speak, except for testimony before congressional committees. They must confine themselves to views that are "nonpartisan and in accordance with established national policy. The secretary of defense will continue to be under fire for declaring his authority. But those who are firing at him should take second thought before questioning his judgment. He is protecting to the best of his ability a tradition of civilian control for more important to the United States than the right of a military official to speak his mind against the Communist Conspiracy. As the cabinet official responsible for dealing with one of the most difficult problems of this Republic, he has no other choice.

Go South For the Right Reason

A National Labor Relations Board ruling this week against a Philadelphia clothing manufacturer who "went South" during a labor dispute may slow down a practice that is giving fits to northern states.

Every time one of their employers gets into a hassle with a union that promises to become a deadlock they can count on hearing that the employer has been approached by a shill from a southern state with a proposition for moving the plant.

This is as sure-fire a pitch as selling windstorm damage insurance during a gale. The southerners are willing to offer everything, including the use of the local mayor's spare bedroom—tax forgiveness, free improvements, special police protection and, of course, freedom from labor organizers.

To all this, NLRB has replied in effect that employers who "go South" wholly to get out from under a labor dispute must provide jobs for its displaced employees either at the new location or the old one. There is nothing to keep a plant from moving to a new location for a variety of reason but now there is an NLRB ruling to keep it from going there to strand its employees if they were involved in labor negotiations.

There will be an appeal, and there may be a reversal. But as things stand now, the next southerner who tries to entice a northern enterprise to move South to get away from a union deadlock had better be prepared with ideas for taking care of the old employees as well as the new payroll, the real estate, improvements, overhead and police protection.

Once Over

A "Children's Hour" TV program as suggested by Newton Minow will be tried out by a major network. Longfellow's famous poem may have to be rewritten:

Between the school and the sunset
When the night is beginning to lower
Comes a switch in TV programming
Introducing The Children's Hour.

II

A short look and then a silence—
I'm filled with a certain dread:
The moppets will be unhappy
When no one is left for dead.

III

The TV is soon deserted —
The kiddies have fled for sure;
A show with the cast unbattered
Is something they can't endure.

IV

They chase me around the household
And stir up a fearful fuss;
Grave Alice and Dick start screaming,
"No show can do this to us!"

V

The others show great displeasure—
They jeer and they boo and hiss,
And cry loudly "Down with Minow!
He can't get away with THIS."

VI

I flee to my bombproof shelter
And hide in a spot well picked;
(A protest I'll make to TV...
I KNOW WHEN A FATHER'S LICKED.)

JOHN WHEELER'S BOOK "I've Got News For You" affords great reading. A newspaperman from boyhood, his life has been one stirring story after another. He was a sports writer in his twenties when he formed his own syndicate. At first he emphasized sports figures like Christy Mathewson but hit the jackpot with "Mutt & Jeff" at start of Bud Fisher's career. He went on to embrace news figures and news events everywhere, and has run one of the biggest syndicates in the world for last 40 years.

Forty U.S. mayors paid visit to West Berlin. But did the situation really call for comedy effects?

Maybe Russia in refusing to pay any bills of U.N. insists it is a house guest and wants troops to tear up any letters saying "Please remit."

Maris home run total will be worth about $300,000 for extra commercials and appearances, it is estimated. His endorsements should include one for a wax to polish off pitchers and a vitamin that provides "that extra bang."

We know a World Series TV fan who sits under a sunlamp to get the stadium mood, has a gadget on the set which serves hotdogs, and insists that the wife interrupt every few minutes with a beer commercial.

Inside Labor By Victor Riesel

At the very moment when the Russians are cutting the heart out of Europe and appear so intent on slicing up "the West,"

I've run into two Soviet surgeons on a special mission inside the United States.

They are truly great doctors. I would not reflect on their devotion to science. Nor will I forget that from time to time in London, Paris and New York, emissaries have come to me from the highest Moscow medical circles suggesting they could speed recovery of my eyes.

I say only it is pathetic that the Russians have turned them into peddlers. They are, in effect, on a sales tour. If successful, they can cost us some of that Fort Knox gold and many jobs.

It was in Oklahoma City, where the Russians had been scheduled to open a medical exhibit, that I first learned of Prof. Viktor M. Zhandov, executive secretary of the Presidium of the Academy of Medicine of the USSR, and (Madame) Dr. Albina Zaharova, of the Institute of the Academy of Medicine of Radiology in Moscow.

THE RUSSIANS called off their Oklahoma City exhibit but now plan to have these two doctors put on a surgical instrument, X-ray and radiological equipment exhibit in Minneapolis and Chicago.

These in effect, will be sales shows. Their objective is to knock out our own surgical and hospital equipment industry and sell us millions of dollars worth of such made-in-Moscow supplies.

And not a minor by-product of this sales trip will be the cultivation of the friendship and respect and knowledge of our own superb medical scientists.

Our State Department of course, is aware of this unsentimental journey throughout our country — just as our State Department knows of the hundreds of millions of dollars worth of strategic trade between the Western world, including us, and the Soviet enemy.

In Europe and East Berlin a month or so ago, I was personally able to check on the sale of vital vast quantities of automatic machinery, transport equipment, automotive carriers and electrical and electronic goods. This I duly reported. Indignantly, I hope.

And while hedgehopping through out own West the other week I learned of brutally blunt, statements by Canadian and British officials on dealing with totalitarian lands, which I also planned to report.

I HAD HOPED to work the same investive into these reports as I have against dealing with Japanese militarism, Il Duce's fascism and Adolf Hitler's Nazism. After all, things equal to the same ghastly things are equal to each other.

I had stored my vitriol against such a man, for example, as Guy Beaudet, port manager of Montreal Harbor. You haven't heard of him and neither would I if I had not been somewhat nearby some days ago when the American Association of Port Authorities ran their 50th annual convention in Long Beach, Calif.

What fascinated me was their inviting Harry Bridges, Soviet-tearing longshoreman leader, to speak.

I lost interest in Bridges, for the moment, when I learned that Guy Beaudet, speaking of trade with the Communists, said: "If you go into morals in this matter, you cut your markets."

He topped this by saying that he favors trade with Communist countries and believes that the seriousness of the cold war has been overplayed.

HE REPORTED rather happily that Canadian grain has been going to Red China, Cuba, Poland, Czechoslovakia and Romania.

Furthermore, he reported that the foodstuffs, which have been going to the land which is dedicated to destroying us, Peiping, China, have been carried in empty oil tankers of the Greeks, the ally for whom we fought.

Apparently this attitude on international morals is consistently Dominionwide. For, when Sir Leslie Ford, general manager of the Port of London, discussed the matter he said:

"You've got to trade with everyone if you're in the trade business."

But there is a strange twist to Sir Leslie's report. He revealed that the British import grain, along with timber and furs from the Russians — and sell them strategic materials.

Now, why does Red China need grain so badly when its partner in the Communist International has enough surplus to export this foodstuff to England.

Obviously the Russians could feed their Chinese comrades. But they let us do it. And then use their grain to obtain our war materials at a time when we're calling up fighting men — men who might well meet this very equipment head on somewhere over there.

How can you whip up any indignation against the very practical men of the British Commonwealth, if our own State Department apparently approved Soviet sales missions inside the U.S.A.

'Quiet Diplomacy'

By DAVID LAWRENCE

World Faces Long Period of Cold War

"Quiet diplomacy"—now going on between Russia and the United States—means patient diplomacy. It covers months—not just days. Progress isn't measurable by public statements, nor is there always a concrete accomplishment to be noted in time for the next edition of the newspapers.

As for the David Lawrence world in general, it wants to know in advance whether there's going to be a war. On the basis of all the moves made to date, neither side has a logical reason for beginning a war. So it's the talk of accidents and of some arbitrary action by Soviet Premier Khrushchev, together with the long series of nuclear tests by Russia, which tends to make people nervous.

It is unfortunate that the techniques of negotiation are so unfamiliar to the public that such an exaggerated importance should be given to the conference, for instance, that President Kennedy had with Foreign Minister Gromyko or to Secretary of State Rusk's long sessions with the communist envoy.

Naturally, when the foreign minister of a potential adversary's government comes to this country, there is an opportunity for significant conversations. But anyone familiar with past practices doesn't really think for a minute that a tangible agreement can be reached in such parleys.

A dictator limits the scope of an ambassador's instructions.

The word, therefore, that is used is "exploration." This leads in turn to comments by Mr. Rusk that the talks were "interesting" and by Mr. Gromyko that they were "useful."

THE TRUTH is the quiet repetition of views doesn't mean too much. Acts mean more. The Soviets did cut off East Berlin and seal it with "the wall." The West didn't resist.

This was doubtless regarded by Soviet Premier Khrushchev as a sign that he could go further and not meet resistance. But promptly the military build-up by the West around Berlin served notice, in effect, that the limit had been reached.

The over-all situation can be described simply. If Russia begins a fight, the West will resist. This word has been passed along to Moscow again and again.

How did the whole crisis start? Moscow announced that a "separate peace treaty" with East Germany would be signed "before the end of the year."

Since then the West has shown it isn't too much concerned about the mere signing of a piece of paper between Moscow and its puppet in East Germany, either this year or next.

What's important is whether there is any aggression—whether the West Germans or their allies are to be denied access to West Berlin.

The Soviets can, if they like, repress their militancy and confine their interferences with access to Berlin to small incidents. That's why London and Washington are already urging the Bonn government to make up its mind how it wants to handle what may develop significantly as routine contacts with East Germany.

To arrange for the passage of persons and the transport of goods across the boundary isn't a difficult matter if each side understands that the word "access" really means access. The Soviet government has pledged that it will guarantee access rights.

So, seeming details are likely to be haggled about for several months. Meanwhile, big talk will come from Nikita Khrushchev when the Communist party and the Communist-bloc states hold important meetings soon.

THE WORLD will be kept in a state of apprehension. This is a deliberate tactic by the Soviet Premier, who thinks that the more he bluffs and threatens, the more likely the West will be inclined to grant concessions in the "negotiations."

Under these trying circumstances, it is regrettable that President Kennedy isn't getting more help from the members of his own party as well as from some of the newspapers in Western Europe.

The impression is being conveyed that the President's own strong words will be followed by a surrender in the end on essential points and that he will not stand up in the final analysis in support of the government of West Germany.

One thing ought to be made clear to domestic as well as foreign critics. President Kennedy can't surrender or back down on any vital point. If he does and a real defeat is registered in the cold war on matters of substance, he might as well say farewell to the presidency in the next election.

If the public is convinced that John F. Kennedy did not stand up in an international crisis, he will be defeated at the polls.

THE PRESIDENT, however, is an experienced political analyst. He knows the consequences of surrender better than do his critics. He also knows that to save his country from war by an honorable settlement means certain reelection.

The big question is how Nikita Khrushchev sizes up the carping criticism of the President in the foreign press. He must know that the United States cannot back down on established rights in Berlin.

He will try, therefore, to prolong the present crisis while he attempts to harass the West in other parts of the world in the hope of breaking up the western alliance.

This will be a long, long controversy. It may take years to resolve. For, as the prospect of a hot war recedes, the cold war intensifies more and more as an instrument of Communist imperialism.

It will require alertness and patience on the Western side—solidarity of spirit as well as financial sacrifice—to carry on intelligently a countermovement.

Obnoxious Remarks

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Remarks a junior diplomat gets tired of hearing:

"Ronald, there isn't time to send your striped pants to the cleaner. You'll have to iron them again yourself."

"I hear the State Department is going to cut our embassy's liquor allowance again."

"Why not let Ronald speak for our delegation today? He's got such a bad case of laryngitis the other side won't be able to tell what he's saying anyway."

"We have to keep him. His father was a big contributor in the last election."

"I understand you've become a diplomat, Ronald. That's wonderful. What else do you do?"

"Why not send him to Britain? He flunked college English, so he couldn't do us any harm there. They won't be able to understand him."

"Some department store lost an ideal floorwalker when Ronald decided to become a diplomat."

"This is a rush mission, Ronald, so don't mess it up. The ambassador came in with a hangover, and I want you to hurry down to the kitchen and bring back a container of black coffee."

"He never learns. I've told him time and time again he'll never get ahead if he can't remember not to wear his Homburg like it was a baseball cap."

"If we had two more like him, they'd make a great team for us to send to Russia—and enter in a troika race."

"Congressman Bellow is coming over here for a first-hand study of foreign economic problems, Ronald, so I want you to be sure he sees only the best night clubs. I'm afraid you'll have to pick up the tab yourself, as we have exhausted the embassy's entertainment allowance for this month."

"He looks so lonely carrying around that big new empty briefcase. Can't we give him some diagrams of the Empire State Building to put in it? That might build up his self-confidence."

"I hear the Russians are planning to bring a mind reader to our next meeting. Why not really mix the guy up by letting Ronald act as our spokesman?"

"Wake up, Ronald, the conference is over."

"I've had a real stroke of genius, chief. Why not promote him three grades and send him back to Washington as a consultant?"

Wallace Kridlers At Columbiana Honored

COLUMBIANA — Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Kridler of 5th St. were honored Sunday afternoon from 2 to 4 at their home in celebration of their golden wedding anniversary.

The affair was planned by their daughter, Mrs. Ralph Whitacre of East Liverpool, and assisted by Mrs. Homer Kridler and Mrs. Roy Kridler of Leetonia.

Twenty-five were served from a table centered with arrangements of golden mums and a cake decorated in the same motif.

Mrs. Kridler was the former Mary Shinn. The couple were married Oct. 7, 1911, with Rev. J. D. Rickets of Lisbon officiating.

Mr. Kridler has been engaged in farming until 1948 when he moved to Columbiana from the rural area.

The couple have three children and eight grandchildren.

THE NEXT COLUMBIANA PTO meeting will be held at 7:30 Wednesday evening, Oct. 11, in the High School Auditorium.

The program will be presented

Lisbon Council Asks Curfew Be Enforced

LISBON — Lisbon Council Monday night ordered strict enforcement of the village's curfew following a report by Councilman Joseph Dornon on complaints from parents that the law is being violated.

Council instructed Mayor Dean Stockman to contact Police Chief Dalton Pike on the matter.

The curfew, which was placed in effect Feb. 15, 1954, calls for all children under 16 years of age to be off the streets and alleys by 10 p.m. except Friday and Saturday nights when they may stay out till 11 p.m.

Boys and girls 16 to 18 are under an 11 p.m. curfew except on Friday and Saturday when it is midnight. The curfew applies to all youths except those accompanied by parents, guardians, or someone over 21 years of age with the permission of parents or guardian.

At church, school or other functions which have a later hour for dismissal, youths may get an extension by contacting village authorities. Rigid enforcement of this curfew will begin Sunday, Mayor Stockman said.

Paul Kuhns, president of the Board of Public Affairs, requested Council's help in constructing a storm sewer from Spruce to Pendleton, a distance of over 500 feet, to drain surface water from the southern part of the Rose addition and old reservoir, west of N. Beaver St.

He asked Council to pay 50 percent of the cost of the tile.

Council requested Kuhns to have figures on the total cost at its next meeting.

Mahoning Farms Tour Is Planned Oct. 17

Twenty-five Youngstown area Chamber of Commerce members, Mahoning County Commissioners, area senators and representatives and their wives have been invited to spend the afternoon and evening of Tuesday, Oct. 17 in visiting Mahoning County agricultural operations and to participate in a family style supper.

The Mahoning County Extension Advisory Committee is sponsoring the event in cooperation with the Grange, Farm Bureau Federation, Soil Conservation District, Canfield Fair Board and other agricultural interests.

Darrel Bacon of New Springfield, chairman, Mrs. Garland Crumbacher, Beaver Township, and Orville Slagle of Boardman make up the Rural-Urban Subcommittee of the County Extension Advisory Committee which is planning the tour and supper. This activity will enable urban and rural interests to become better acquainted and to visit three Mahoning County agricultural businesses. Scheduled for the day:

1:30 p.m., meet at Mount Olivet Church in North Lima.
2 p.m. Barth Brothers farm; poultry (turkey production and 35,000 laying hens), potato and corn production.
4 p.m., Salem Fruit Growers

The word for it is... "Masterful!"

"Superb" . . . "luxurious" . . . "beautiful" . . . "brilliant"—there are many words that might be used to describe the new 1962 Cadillac car.

But if we were to select from the Cadillac vocabulary the one word that most completely captures the essence of this latest "car of cars"—we would choose "masterful".

For here is a motor car that has already established its mastery in everything that makes an automobile good and fine and desirable.

In appearance, it is clearly a Cadillac masterpiece—graceful, clean-lined and elegant.

In performance, it is a revelation. Its power plant is a reservoir of silken power—and the car rides and handles with an instinctive ease and sureness.

In safety, it is in a class of its own—with a host of exclusive features, including remarkable new side cornering lights.

In craftsmanship, it is simply without rival. Every 1962 Cadillac will undergo more than 1400 inspections to assure its quality and goodness.

On and on the list could go. But however lengthy, that list could never replace the experience of inspecting the car and driving it.

Your dealer will happily let you do both.

Once you have, you'll understand why the word has gone out so quickly that this is the finest motor car ever to bear the Cadillac name.

Griffith-Ackerman Vows Heard In Methodist Church

Miss Linda Griffith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Griffith of 534 Reilly Ave., became the bride of Mr. and Mrs. Keith Ackerman of Salem, in the chapel of the First Methodist Church Oct. 1 at 2:30 p.m.

Rev. William Longworth officiated at the double ring ceremony before an altar banked with schefflera and grape ivy foliage and two vases of white gladioli and mums.

Miss Theresa Viola, soloist, sang "I Love You Truly," "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer", while the couple were kneeling at the altar. Homer Taylor was the organist.

The bride was given in marriage by her mother and father.

She wore a gown of bouquet taffeta with re-embroidered Alencon lace with scooped neckline of lace with sequin trim and a full skirt with panels and rose detail forming the chapel train. Her finger tip length illusion veil was attached to a crown of pearls. She carried a cascade of stephanotis showered with foliage and satin ribbons and centered with a corsage.

Mrs. James Solmen was the matron of honor in a princess style gown designed by Mrs. F. G. Ackerman, grandmother of the bridegroom, of pervanche blue silk organza with gathered neckline and capel sleeves and a skirt of unpressed pleats. The headpiece was of satin. She carried a colonial nosegay of blue stephanotis and yellow pompons.

The bridesmaids were Mrs. Donald Clark, sister of the bridegroom, and Miss Joyce Whitcomb. They were dressed identically with the matron of honor and carried yellow pompon nosegays centered with blue stephanotis.

Miss Dana Lippiatt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Lippiatt of Newgarden Road, was flower girl. She carried a basket of yellow pompons and stephanotis.

The ringbearer was Donald Ackerman, brother of the bridegroom.

Robert Snyder of Washington, D.C., served as best man and Arthur Rottenborn and Richard Citino were ushers.

The bride's mother wore a green print jersey dress with aqua accessories.

Mother-Teacher Tea Event Enjoyed At United School

The ninth annual Mother-Teacher Tea was held in the United Local School High School Auditorium Friday, with approximately 325 present.

Mothers visited with the teachers in their respective rooms before the following program was presented: "Welcome", Mrs. James A. Rhodes, Jr., chairman of room mothers; humorous reading, "Romeo and Juliet", Miss Karen Whitacre of Minerva; remarks by Supt. Dale W. Gates.

Address, J. Wesley Pollock, instructor at Youngstown University, and director of health and safety in Youngstown public schools; trumpet solo "Wonderland by Night" and "Five Foot Two, Eyes of Blue", Danny Reeder of Hanoverton; introduction of room mothers, Mrs. Paul Glunt, co-chairman of room mothers; pantomime, "The Man In The Little White Coat Is Coming To Get Me", Miss Whitacre; benediction, Mrs. Alonza Wise.

Refreshments were served from two buffet tables covered with white linen, with centerpieces of pink and white mums, flanked by pink candles in crystal candelabra. Those pouring at the silver tea services were Mrs. Peter Marra, Mrs. Frank Solak, Mrs. Howard Blanchard and Mrs. William Maple.

Committees in charge of the affair were: Program, Mrs. William Thompson, chairman, Mrs. Alonzo Wise, Mrs. Karl Stout and Mrs. Donald Mayer. Hostess Mrs. Howard Gray, chairman, Mrs. Paul Hays, Mrs. L. R. Hippley, Mrs. George August, Mrs. Bruce Kirsch, Mrs. Richard Clay and Mrs. William Wolf. Social, Mrs. Charles Myers, chairman, Mrs. George Wilson, Mrs. Ellis Blazer, Mrs. Gordon ibson, Mrs.

Mrs. R. Frederick Ackerman

The bridegroom's mother wore a beige lace dress with aqua accessories.

A reception followed the ceremony in Fellowship Hall at the church. The bride's table was laid in white with a net overskirt. A three-tier cake topped with the traditional bride and groom, designed and made by the bridegroom's mother, centered the table and the appointments were in silver.

Mrs. Charles Renner of Darlington, Pa., and Mrs. Phil Geisse Jr. of Alliance, both cousins of the bride, served.

Miss Eileen Gonda registered 150 guests from Salem, Alliance, Darlington, Pa., Beach, N. D., East Liverpool, Toledo, Kent, Washington, D. C., and Michigan.

The bride is a graduate of Salem High School with the class of 1961.

The bridegroom is a graduate of Salem High School, attended Valley Forge Military Academy and is now in business with his father.

For her going away outfit the bride chose a cotton-wool sheath dress of cocoa brown with a skirt of beige and black with black accessories.

The rehearsal dinner was given by the bridegroom's parents at their home following the rehearsal at the church Sept. 30.

Services for George H. Talbot, 59, of 432 Aetna St. will be held at 2 p.m. Thursday at the Stark Memorial, with Rev. R. J. Hunter officiating. Burial will be in Hope Cemetery.

Friends may call Wednesday from 2 to 4 and 7 to 9 p.m. at the Memorial.

Mr. Talbot, who was an employee of the Deming Co. for 22 years, died Monday in Salem City Hospital of a heart condition.

Columbiana Man Injured In Crash

A Columbiana man escaped with minor injuries when the ice cream truck he was driving went out of control and overturned on the New Springfield Rd., east of Columbiana at 11:45 a.m. Monday.

Delmar E. Justice, 24, of 26 Fitzpatrick Ave., was driving a truck owned by Country Maid, Inc. of Columbiana when he lost control of the vehicle just as he came over the crest of a hill. The ice cream truck swung left of center and rolled over on its side.

Justice was cited by the State Highway Patrol for unsafe operation. He was treated by a Columbiana physician for a bruised left shoulder. The truck was damaged considerably.

No one was hurt in a two-car mishap at 2 p.m. Monday at the junction of Rt. 62 and Township Road 707, four miles east of the Stark County line.

According to the Patrol, Pearl E. Caywood, 42, of Alliance was making a turn when his car was struck from the rear by an auto operated by William S. Stinson, 22, of Clinton.

Stinson was cited by the Patrol for failing to stop in the assured clear distance.

Govin Is Awarded Engineering Prize

Charles T. Govin, chief engineer for the Salem Tool Company, 767 S. Ellsworth Ave., won the sixth place award of $100 presented by the James F. Lincoln Arc Welding Foundation of Cleveland for papers demonstrating how an arc welded steel design served to improve the appearance or performance or reduce the cost of a machine or structure.

Govin's subject was a collapsible head for road boring machines. His paper was entered in the machines division.

First place award of $3,000 went to G. H. Lynn, manufacturing specialist, and I. John Niemkiewicz, design engineer, both employees of the Allis-Chalmers Manufacturing Co. plant in Cincinnati.

and the other governments through the use of forged documents.

The Cuban note apparently was a preview of the policy speech Cuban Foreign Minister Raul Roa is to give in the U.N. General Assembly in New York this afternoon. Except for the details on training of anti-Castro exiles, most of the charges had been aired by Castro and his spokesman in recent weeks. Cuba also has submitted a complaint to the U.N. General Assembly charging the United States is planning new aggression against the Castro regime.

Olivares assembled the 32 foreign envoys before large maps of the United States and the Caribbean on which he pointed out the alleged training sites.

He pinpointed the Florida locations as West Palm Beach, Pompano, Fort Lauderdale, Hollywood, Opa-locka, Hialeah, Homestead, Tavernier, Islamorada, Big Pine, Long Key, Marathon Key, Key West, St. Petersburg, Sarasota and Dry Tortugas west of Key West.

Olivares claimed other training centers in the United States were at Fort Worth, Tex.; Norfolk, Va.; Fort Bragg, N.C., and New Orleans.

Jury Finds Defendant Guilty of Non-Support

LISBON — A jury deliberated only 20 minutes before returning a guilty verdict in the trial of Slade Brande of Wellsville, indicted for non-support of his minor children.

Brandt waived his three days to file for a new trial and requested probation. An investigation into his background was ordered by Judge Joel H. Sharp.

The trial of David Bailey, 18, of East Liverpool, indicted for operating a motor vehicle without the owner's consent, began late this morning before Judge Sharp. Bailey pleaded not guilty at arraignment day Sept. 25.

W. H. Schellenger

EAST PALESTINE — William H. Schellenger, 70, of 397 E. North Ave. died of a heart attack at his home at 3:05 p.m. Monday.

Born Aug. 16, 1891 in Ashtabula County, the son of Herbert B. and Ida Warner Schellenger, he lived in East Palestine for about 40 years and was a member of the Methodist Church. He operated the W. H. Schellenger Hardwood Lumber Co.

Survivors include his wife, Mrs. Maye McCalla Schellenger, whom he married Dec. 31, 1925; three sons, Harry of East Palestine, Wesley of Boardman and Gordon of Lockwood; two sisters, Mrs. Alta Mills of Jefferson and Mrs. Nellie Harnist of Rock Creek, and 10 grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held at 1:30 p.m. Thursday at the Oliver Funeral Home, with Rev. Thomas Hammerton of the Methodist Church officiating.

Burial will be in Glenview Cemetery.

Friends may call tonight and Wednesday from 7 to 9 p.m. at the Funeral Home.

Mrs. Joseph Wilson

EAST ROCHESTER—Mrs. Nora M. Wilson, 66, of East Rochester died of complications at her home at 1:40 a.m. today. Death followed an extended illness.

Born at Portsmouth Sept. 18, 1885, the daughter of Cary and Nancy Gantz Mann, she resided in East Rochester for the past 10 years. She was a member of the East Rochester Methodist Church and the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Engineers Auxiliary in Canton.

She is survived by her husband, Joseph; one daughter, Mrs. Evelyn Overmyer of Sacramento, Calif.; one son, Robert L. of Paris; three sisters, Mrs. William Sigler of Deerfield, Mrs. Stewart Hicks of Alliance and Mrs. William Perrenoud of Louisville; two brothers, Sylvester of Marlboro and Howard of Arlington, Va., and six grandchildren.

Private funeral services will be held Thursday at 1 p.m. at the Gotschall-Hutchinson Funeral Home in Minerva with Rev. Ralph Chambers of the East Rochester Methodist Church officiating.

Burial will be at Moultrie Chapel Cemetery near New Franklin. Friends may call at the funeral home from 7 to 9 p.m. Wednesday.

Mrs. William Schnoebelen

LISBON — Mrs. Bessie Bell Schnoebelen, 83, of 234½ S. Lincoln Ave., died Monday at 10:15 p.m. at her home after an illness of one year.

Born Feb. 9, 1878, in Cardington, she was a daughter of Jacob and Rachael Jackson Deffenbaugh. She lived in this vicinity since 1922. Her husband, William A. Schnoebelen, died in 1933.

She was a member of the 7th Day Adventist Church of Salem and the Dorcas Society.

Mrs. Schnoebelen is survived by three daughters, Mrs. Roy James and Mrs. Thomas Wetzel of Lisbon and Mrs. James Johnson of East Palestine; two sons, Raymond Schnoebelen of Columbiana and William Schnoebelen of Salem; one brother, W. W. Deffenbaugh of Nyssa, Ore.; nine grandchildren and 12 great-grandchildren.

Services will be held Thursday at 1:30 p.m. at the Ellis-Leggett Funeral Home by Rev. Lyle Euler of East Liverpool. Burial will be in Columbiana Cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home Wednesday from 2 to 4 and 7 to 9 p.m.

Hearing Set In Numbers Slip Case

LISBON — A hearing on motions to quash indictments against the Lisbon Sales Book Co. and four of its officers, filed Tuesday by Atty. William Moore, has been set for Friday, Oct. 27, at 10 a.m. before Common Pleas Judge Joel H. Sharp.

In the petition to quash, the defendants claim that they have no jurisdiction over what the salesbooks are used for after they make them.

The Sales Book Co. and Martin Sufrin, Isadore Sufrin, Joseph Sufrin and Michael Schedlmeier were indicted by the September Grand Jury for violating a new law, effective Sept. 1, which makes it a felony to manufacture numbers books.

The defendants are free on $1,000 bonds set by the court at arraignment day Sept. 25.

Berserk Laborer Shoots 4 to Death

GARY, Ind. (AP)—A laborer at the U.S. Steel Co.'s sheet and tin mill went berserk today and killed four men, wounded four others before a plant protection policeman killed him.

Police said Davis pulled a .38 revolver at the mill shortly before 9 a.m. and began firing. After he emptied the gun, they said, a plant protection guard shot him down.

It was not immediately known what caused Davis to start shooting.

Police identified the dead as Arbie Davis, a laborer; Joe Gudohn, laborer; Donald Moran, foreman; and Louis Massa, general laborer foreman.

were installed this fall would cost about $18,000. Fadely estimated. This would include removing the light poles which are along the side lines of the football field and putting the new lights behind the bleachers.

Fadely suggested that $5,000 to $6,000 be placed in a football lights fund each year for three years. The Kiwanis Club already has allocated $500 for this project and the Boosters Club has stated that it will participate as far as its finances will permit.

Fadely suggested that other organizations might be interested in donating money to be used for new lights at the Stadium.

The assistant superintendent also recommended that a fund be started as soon as possible to help cover major maintenance problems that might occur, such as replacing worn out heating plants in the schools.

Supt. Smith announced that Ruth Tooze, a trained librarian and author, will bring her Book Caravan to Salem for four days the week of Oct. 23. She tells stories to children and helps them select books to read. She will be paid $20 per day by the schools. Miss Tooze also is on the Salem Town Hall program that week.

It was reported that Robert Miller, physical education director at the Senior High School, has begun an intramural and physical fitness program of flag (touch) football in the elementary schools. Eight teams have been organized. They are scheduled to play Friday afternoon at the Senior High School.

Arrangements are being completed for a college-level reading course for seniors to be conducted here by a professor from Mt. Union College. Supt. Smith said 55 students have signed up for this course. He said an attempt is being made to establish a reading seminar for college-bound ninth graders.

Coal Contract Awarded

The Sunnyside Coal Mining Co. of Damascus submitted the apparent low bid to supply Salem schools with coal this year. Their bid is $5.50 per ton, delivered. Industrial Mining Co. of the Salem-Lisbon Rd. had last year's contract for $5.75 per ton. There were four bids received this year.

The Board decided that if the Sunnyside Co. can meet the specifications of coal required, it would be awarded the contract.

Bus Rides Are Urged

A group of parents from Salem's west end attended last night's meeting to request that junior high students in that area be allowed to ride the bus to school. They said some of the junior high children have to walk one and a half to two miles to get to school.

Supt. Smith pointed out that the school is not obligated to furnish transportation for students living within two miles of the school. The superintendent told the parents that Deane Phillips, attendance officer for the schools, will be asked to prepare a report on the situation on the west end and present it to the Board along with his recommendation.

deep drawn steel washing machine tub and the steel refrigerator evaporator. It converted heavy cast iron parts into lighter, more attractive, and less expensive formed steel.

In 1931 Mullins produced the first porcelain-on-steel sink top. Will Mullins died in 1932.

The Mullins Company and Youngstown Pressed Steel merged in 1937 and Mullins began to concentrate on kitchens manufacture but World War II interrupted to put the factory to work to aid the military effort. Shell lines took over.

AFTER THE WAR, manufacture and distribution of steel kitchens in pastel colors really began in earnest. Food waste disposers and electric dishwashers were added to the production lines. Business thrived, but a business slump and the waning popularity of steel kitchens caused American Standard, which purchased Mullins in a merger deal in January of 1956, to transfer its kitchen business to its plant in Warren. American-Standard had purchased the former Liberty shell plant in Warren after the war.

This decision left the main No. One plant here to produce steel stimpings on a contract order basis. The Salem factory has been operating at a profit, but the Warren plant has not. Many of the Youngstown Kitchens officials who recommended the move to Warren are no longer with the company. A number of men who "stuck it out" at the local plant are still on the payroll.

The Mullins No. 3 plant was sold during the past year to the Sebring Container Corp., manufacturer of corrugated box containers after the firm's building in Sebring was destroyed by fire.

The Youngstown Kitchens modern office building opposite the main plant on S. Ellsworth Ave. was purchased a year ago by the E. W. Bliss Co. to accommodate its office needs and engineering facilities.

Fairfield-Waterford PTO Meeting Held

Fairfield and New Waterford Parent Teacher Organization met Monday evening at Crestview School, with over 200 members attending.

Open house was held and Fred Boise presided at the business meeting in the absence of Allen Chamberlain.

The one-mill operating levy was endorsed by the group. Principal Ralph Myers introduced the teachers.

Hubert Lawrence, county school psychologist, spoke and showed a film on mental health.

Mrs. Evelyn Long, chairman of the refreshment committee. Mrs. Glen Strouse, Mrs. Robert Challis, Mrs. Wilson Lower, Mrs. Boise, Mrs. Dwaine Hawkins, Mrs. Charles Lindsay and Mrs. Floyd Bower served refreshments.

ision here. He came here in 1946 as chief engineer, later became works manager and in 1950 was elected vice president. He rose to president of Bliss and moved five years ago to Canton where Bliss' general offices are located.

Complies With U.S. Court Edict

American-Standard's sale of the Youngstown Kitchens Division was made in compliance with a final judgment entered Sept. 29, 1960, in an anti-trust action brought by the United States Justice Department in March of 1956 in regard to the merger between American-Standard and the former Mullins Manufacturing Co.

American-Standard Corporation agreed to divest itself of the Kitchens Division in 1960 after the federal court action and the properties have been for sale ever since. It was not until about five weeks ago that word of the impending sale was hinted.

450 On Payroll Here

There are 450 on the payroll at the Salem factory although currently only 357 are at work. The plant in Warren employs a corresponding number.

There has been strong speculation that the Warren holdings eventually will be disposed of and the Mullins Manufacturing Co. operations again centered wholly in Salem, but Mr. Potter said today that "present operations and personnel will be continued without change."

Mr. Potter is expected to become president and general manager of the Mullins Manufacturing Co. but not until after Jan. 1. An announcement is expected later on the complete corporate structure of the firm. Morey will be a director as will E. M. Stephenson, president of the Farmers National Bank who helped to negotiate the deal.

"At present, things are in the nebulous stage," Mr. Potter said.

Fulbright Ouster Effort In Works

WASHINGTON (AP) — A king-sized effort apparently is going to be made by conservatives to unseat Sen. J. William Fulbright, D-Ark., in next year's Arkansas senatorial primary.

Fulbright, who heads the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, took notice of this Monday when he announced in Little Rock that he will be a candidate for re-election "unless it is obvious the people of Arkansas no longer want me to represent them."

Fulbright added that he was aware of some dissatisfaction among state voters because of his involvement with foreign affairs.

Because he is outspoken in his views, Fulbright has raised some State Department eyebrows with recent comments. His statement in London last week that the West bears heavy responsibilities for the situation in Berlin disturbed Kennedy administration leaders.

Back in this country, Fulbright called an airport news conference to say that his remarks were directed at the "dilatatory tactics" employed by Western leaders in 1944 and 1945 and not at current talks about Berlin.

This may have left the Arkansas senator in a sort of hair-shirt classification, so far as the administration is concerned. But few politicians thought it disturbed the Arkansas voters materially.

Much more important from a state standpoint, perhaps, may have been Fulbright's memorandum to Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara in which the senator complained about military sponsorship of public forums which featured "extremist speeches" about alleged Communist infiltration in schools, churches and government.

Reuther said his bargaining team hoped to be able to present a completed national contract for approval to the national Ford Council at a meeting Thursday afternoon.

In calling the council he urged stepped up bargaining at the 32 locals which have not yet reached individual agreements. Both Reuther and Malcolm L. Denise, Ford's vice president-labor relations, conceded it was more difficult to solve the local problems than the national problems.

The AMC problem arose when Local 72 at Kenosha, Wis., refused to ratify the national contract Sunday by a vote of 1,507 to 1,444. More than 12,000 members were eligible to vote.

Reuther said the American Motors contract is the best of any in the auto industry and blamed the setback on misunderstanding of contract terms.

He said the total AMC vote so far stands 4,080-2,840 for approval with one local of 20 members still to ballot.

A decision on what to do next will be made by the union's international executive board at a meeting later this week.

Smith that the Salem School District can maintain a sufficient balance in a bond retirement fund next year to avoid having to borrow to pay bonds as they come due.

This borrowing has been necessary since bonds came due a month before the actual tax settlement is received from the county auditor. This borrowing has been going on for some time and it has meant additional interest charges.

November will be no exception. The Board last night voted to borrow $168,000 to pay for bonds that come due next month.

Currently there are no outstanding loans. As of Sept. 30, total cash resources totaled $105,265.89. Unpaid bills amounted to $31,805.20.

Yankees Bombard Parade of Red Pitchers To Win 13-5

Jay Shelled From Contest In First

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP)—The incredible New York Yankees, with only two RBIs from their fabled M&M flailers, today had revived sagging American League prestige with an almost effortless five-game World Series' decision over the stunned Cincinnati Reds.

True Roger Maris, the new Babe Ruth, hit a game-winning homer in Saturday's third game, but Maris and the ailing Mickey Mantle otherwise let their less-publicized but highly talented Yankee mates go about routing the Reds, four games to one.

In Monday's 13-5 clincher in sun-bathed Crosley Field, John Blanchard, Hector Lopez, Bill Skowron and Clete Boyer cannonaded the Reds into submission.

In this series which ended a two-year domination by National League champions—Los Angeles in 1959 and Pittsburgh in 1960—

Youngstown Golfer Leads In Ohio Open

By BOB SHAFER

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — Eddie Griffiths, long-hitting Youngstown professional, carried a three-stroke lead into today's second round of the Ohio Open Golf Championship at Firestone Country Club.

The former Open champion fired a three-under-par 67 Monday, solving the tricky greens with his "cocky grip" putting. Griffiths, 34, sank putts of 15, 20, 23 and 45 feet. He had six birdies and nine pars and bogied only three holes of the 7,165-yard, par 70 course.

Griffiths, who won the Ohio Open in 1957 at Mansfield, said he tried out his reverse putting grip (left hand below the right hand) a couple of years ago and has used it ever since. He said it helps him keep his putter square to the ball.

Three strokes back of Griffiths after the first round of the 72-hole test were pro Wally Ulrich, Akron salesman, and amateur Karl Schmidt, also of Akron.

Defending champion Frank Stranahan, Toledo pro, shot even par 35 on the front nine, but bogied three holes and birdied two on the back nine to finish with a one-over par 71. Also at 71 was Leo Biagetti, Ashland pro.

Ohio State University sophomore Don Stickney, one of about 50 amateurs in the field of 150, fired a 72. Grouped with Stickney were Tom Card of Solon, president of the Northern Ohio section of the PGA, and Jim Lucius, Troy Country Club pro.

Amateur Art Hudnutt of Elyria was one stroke back at 73, tied with four others, including club pro Alex Redl Joe Kotlarczyk, Fremont pro; former two-time champion Disk Shoemaker of the Beechmont Country Club in Cleveland and Frank Harned of the Cleveland Country Club.

After today's round of 18 holes the field will be cut to 60 for Wednesday's final 36 holes.

Art Rohrer and Marion Heck of Columbiana fired 41-41-52 and 41-39-80 respectively. Vince Leskosky, pro from the Salem Golf Club, withdrew.

Rebels Rated First In Nation

Alabama Edged By Iowa for 2nd Place

By JACK CLARY

Associated Press Sports Writer

Mississippi's rollicking Rebels took over as the nation's No. 1 college football team today, replacing Iowa of the Big Ten.

Ole Miss, with a 3-0 record this year and unbeaten in 18 games dating back to 1959, was an overwhelming choice by The Associated Press' regional experts, gaining 21 first-place votes.

Iowa, named the top team for the first two weeks and in the preseason poll, edged Alabama for second place. Texas was fourth. Michigan State and Michigan, who meet this Saturday, were fifth and sixth, and Ohio State seventh.

Notre Dame made its first appearance since early in 1959 for a No. 8 ranking. Baylor, 10th last week, moved up to No. 9 and surprising Maryland, after three wins in as many starts, was 10th.

Dropping from the select list were Syracuse, beaten 22-21 by Maryland last Saturday, and Georgia Tech, a 10-0 loser to Louisiana State. Tech had been ranked third and Syracuse seventh.

The top ten teams with first-place votes in parentheses:

1. Mississippi (21) 384
2. Iowa (11) 341
3. Alabama (4) 329
4. Texas (3) 286
5. Michigan State (2) 259
6. Michigan (2) 240

7-Pendulum

By SHARON KAY RITCHIE

Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

The thing that makes the four-step delivery click is the pendulum swing.

Just as the pendulum on a grandfather's clock moves forward, back and forward, so does the bowling ball.

The first step, the pushaway, has gotten the ball in motion. It begins its descent on the second step. If the timing is right, the ball will be alongside the right knee as you put the weight on the left foot. During the second step the arm should be close to the body and straight.

The second and third steps should be so carefully rehearsed and practiced that they become automatic.

Robinson, who had only 1 hit in 11 trips until Monday's game, slammed a three-run homer and a double—but hit only .200 for the series. Pinson collected only two hits on 22 trips. Eddie Kasko, a .271 regular season hitter, led the Reds with 7 hits in 22 at-bats.

Monday's windup was just about wrapped up in the first inning when Joey Jay, who had given the Reds their only series triumph with a four-hit, 6-2 victory in the second game, was shelled from the mound in a sixth-inning attack.

The Reds faithful got a chance to whoop it up briefly in the third when Robinson clouted his three-run homer off Yankee starter Ralph Terry, and again in the fifth when Wally Post clipped reliever Bud Daley for a two-run homer.

Jay was followed by a seemingly never-ending parade of Cincinnati throwers. The 6-4, 225-pound right-hander threw 23 pitches before he was dragged from the first-inning carnage. After Jay came Jim Maloney, Ken Johnson, Bill Henry, Sherm Jones, Bob Purkey, Jim Brosnan and Ken Hunt.

They are tackle Henry Jordan, ends Willie Davis and Bill Quinlan, halfback Lew Carpenter and quarterback John Roach.

Jordan, Davis and Quinlan have been important members of the Packers defensive unit. Davis and Quinlan were regulars with the Browns.

Ace Hurls 14 Scoreless Innings

Ford Stands As Hero Of 1961 World Series

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP)—Now that the smoke has cleared from the New York Yankees' massacre of the outgunned Cincinnati Reds, a whimsical pitcher with withering finesse, lefty Whitey Ford, stands as the 1961 World Series hero.

Ford broke a Babe Ruth pitching record and hamstrung the Reds with 14 innings of scoreless pitching while Roger (61-homer) Maris belted only one vital blow from the width of the Yankee bench in varying degrees.

They included: Big John Blanchard, whose .400 batting effort in a utility role included two extremely timely homers.

Bobby Richardson, who continued his amazing series hot hitting with a 9 for 23 record and a .391 average after collecting 11 for 30 and a .367 mark in the 1960 Yankee series' upset by the Pirates.

Another utility star, Hector Lopez, who slammed a home run, triple and single in 9 trips for the series RBI high of 7.

Cletis Boyer, the octopus-like third sacker, who hit when the chips were down.

And, to a certain extent, Maris, whose ninth-inning homer gave the Yankees a 3-2 triumph over the Reds in Saturday's third game, and Mantle, who played 11 painful innings with a festered right hip.

But, in the final analysis, it was the light-hearted, heavy-armed Ford who rang a loud midnight alarm on Cincinnati's cinderella team.

Had Ford not suffered a badly bruised toe from his own batted ball in the sixth inning of Sunday's fourth game, he might have had a skein of 36 scoreless innings instead of the record 32 he now has written into baseball's archives.

Ruth held the former scoreless inning series record at 29 2-3, a mark the immortal Bambino reportedly cherished as much as his season homer mark of 60 which Maris broke this year with 61 in 8 more games.

After his record-breaking second stint Sunday, Ford lightly passed over his accomplishment, jokingly wondering how much money would be offered for the ball he used in breaking Ruth's record.

No joke to the crushed Cincinnati Reds, however, was the fact that in whipping them twice, Ford allowed six hits in 14 innings, walked only one, struck out seven and made them look mighty futile.

Wilmington has five straight wins, three of them shutouts. The latest was 30-0 over previously unbeaten Circleville.

paugh here against a winless Illini team, Buck Coach Woody Hayes will start rookie Ormonde Ricketts of Springfield at an offensive end.

Hayes was forced into it, he reported at his weekly press luncheon Monday, by the news that regular starter Bob Middleton suffered an injured jaw in the UCLA game.

It is feared the injury to the Marion junior may be a fracture that could sideline him for weeks.

Hayes, hard put for subject matter in his talk to his guests, what with the inexperienced Illini showing 20-7 and 28-7 losses to Washington and Northwestern in the first two games, pointed out that both the Bucks and Illinois completed 17 passes in two games.

Noting that the OSU completions netted only 130 yards, Hayes said: "Now we are about ready to go for some of the long ones."

Hayes said quarterback Bill Mrukowski is developing into a good thrower (10 of 11 completed last week), and his remark that "you have to walk before you can run" hinted that long-range bombs may be hurled against Illinois.

Sandusky Takes Over Runner-Up Spot

Massillon Tigers Remain Top HS Football Team In State

By FRITZ HOWELL

Associated Press Sports Writer

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Massillon's mighty men maintained their lead today in the weekly Associated Press high school football poll, but a new challenger popped up in second place.

Coach Earle Bruce's Sandusky Blue Streaks, riding the crest of a wave of Northwestern Ohio votes, crashed into second place to oust Niles McKinley from the runner-up spot.

A week ago Massillon held a 123-point edge over Niles on the 10-9-8 etc. voting basis. Today the Tiger advantage was 122 over the Streaks as 43 sports writers voted in the weekly ratings.

Massillon and Niles were expected to hold their one-two spots as each triumphed handily over hitherto unbeaten Steubenville teams over the weekend. Massillon turned back the Big Red 38-14, while Niles was a convincing 40-6 victor over Central Catholic.

Sandusky, third a week ago, trimmed Toledo Whitmer 46-14 as fullback Steward Williams, one of the state's standouts, scored three touchdowns.

The Massillon conquest dumped Steubenville out of the top 10, and Toledo St. Francis also disappeared on the heels of a 28-7 loss to Cincinnati Purcell.

Cincinnati Roger Bacon's fine defensive team, which has allowed only one touchdown in four victories, zoomed to ninth place from among the also-rans, and high-scoring Bellevue, with 234 points in five wins, took over 10th. Bacon beat Cincinnati Hughes 30-0, and Bellevue swamped Upper Sandusky 68-0 to join the elite.

From here and there: Chillicothe, which hadn't beaten Portsmouth in 39 years until last season, made it two in a row over the Trojans by 14-6 last week.

Halfback Richie Scales scored the winner on a 70-yard pass play with Dave Smith on the throwing end.

Ray Hoyman, Steubenville coach and a Massillon product, said the current Massillon team is the most powerful and best defensive Tiger outfit he's ever seen.

Mohawk trimmed Plymouth 22-16 for its first victory since the school took up football 18 games ago.

Wilmington has five straight wins, three of them shutouts. The latest was 30-0 over previously unbeaten Circleville.

Action! Minerva led Leetonia

20-7 as the second half started. Minerva kicked off, Leetonia fumbled, and Tom Knight went 24 yards for a Minerva touchdown. Minerva kicked off, and Al Vignon raced it back 85 yards for a Leetonia score. Leetonia kicked off, and Gary Nigro ran it back 85 yards for Minerva counter. Elapsed time—less than a minute. Minerva won it 40-13, for a 5-0 record.

How 43 sports writers, 28 from newspapers and 15 from radio-TV stations, rate Ohio's high school football teams this week in The Associated Press poll.

Shown are the first place votes in parentheses, the poll points on a 10-9-8-etc. basis, and the win-loss and scoring records of the leaders:

Rookie Manager Wins All

Houk Gives Lie to Durocher Quip: 'Nice Guys Finish Last'

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer
CINCINNATI (AP) — Ralph Houk is the man to bury for all time Leo Durocher's quip, "Nice guys finish last."

The manager of the New York Yankees is a nice guy to all who know him, a modest, courteous man with the poise and confidence of a budding executive.

Houk rode the hot seat all season long, from the October day a year ago he was named successor to Casey Stengel to the moment his New York Yankees clinched the World Series Monday at Crosley Field.

Some may say they would like to ride in such a hot seat with all the Yankee millions and home run power at his disposal. The facts are that Houk, working on a one-year contract, had to follow in the footsteps of Stengel, one of the great managers of baseball.

All Houk had to do was win 10 pennants (and seven World Series) to match Stengel's record. Although critics since the days of Joe McCarthy have called Yankee pilots "push button managers," it was up to Houk to prove he could win. He alone knew how important it was to retain the confidence and respect of the players, many of whom he had played beside in his years with the Yankees as a reserve catcher.

There is no "Stengelese" in Houk's conversation. He speaks calmly, directly and to the point. "That feller" that Stengel used to talk about disappeared from the Yankee Stadium clubhouse. Houk named names and answered questions without evading the issue.

"Look, there is only one Casey Stengel," he told visitors at spring training. "I am Ralph Houk."

Casey did an awful lot for me. Without Casey, I wouldn't be here. He was a great manager.

"But you manage your own way. That is the only way you can do it. You don't try to follow anybody else."

Houk set his own rules at the very beginning.

"One thing you'll never hear from me," he said, "is a second guess of any of my players. If I have to talk to him I'll do it in private."

Ford, Batting Power Paved Yanks' Way

By TED SMITS
Associated Press Sports Editor
CINCINNATI (AP) — This will be known as the series in which the Cincinnati Redlegs sent up 15 men to pinch hit—and got one double, which had no effect on the score.

In which the Redlegs issued five intentional walks to the Yankees—and on four occasions the next man hit safely, and on the fifth, pitcher Bud Daley raised a sacrifice fly that scored a run.

In which, with the Yankees leading 11-3 in the fifth game, Vada Pinson led off the fifth inning with a single to center and was easily thrown out at second when he tried to stretch it into a double. The Reds then went on to get two runs, which would have been three or more if Pinson had played it safe.

But when all was said and done, the Redlegs really never had a chance no matter what their strategy was.

The Yankees took the final game 13-5 Monday and the series 4-1 and the reason was Yankee batting power plus pitcher Whitey Ford, who achieved a series mark of 32 consecutive scoreless innings.

Furthermore, the Yankees won with little help from their big guns, Roger Maris and Mickey Mantle. Mantle played only one full game and part of another, and Maris was held in check by Redleg pitching except for the third game when his ninth-inning homer won for New York 3-2.

Mets, Colts Pick Team In Special Draft

By JOE REICHLER
CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP)—First basemen Gil Hodges and Norm Larker of the Los Angeles Dodgers are expected to be the first picks today when the New York Mets and Houston Colts stock their rosters with players of other National League clubs in a special draft.

The draft will bring each of the new clubs 28 players at a cost of $2.1 million.

The Mets reportedly will take the veteran Hodges, former Brooklyn hero. Larker, who barely missed winning the league batting title in 1960, will go to the Colts.

Other Mets picks were expected to include Chicago cub's outfielder Richie Ashburn; San Francisco Giants' catcher Hobie Landrith southpaw Bobby Shantz of the Pittsburgh Pirates and Dodger right-hander Roger Craig.

The Colts were believed to have their eyes on pitcher Sam Jones of the Giants and catcher Norm Sherry of the Dodgers as well as southpaw Vinegar Bend Mizell of the Pirates and outfielder Gino Cimoli of the Milwaukee Braves.

Each new club must take a total of 16 players at $75,000 each, and may add eight more at $50,000 each.

A special premium list of players valued at $125,000 each also will be made available to the new clubs in the expanded 10-team league. This selection will be made immediately after the regular draft.

Negotiations On U.N. Chief Pushed By U.S.

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The United States intensified negotiations with the Soviet Union today on an interim secretary-general for the United Nations after Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson reported "some progress" toward breaking the deadlock.

Stevenson conferred for an hour and 40 minutes Monday with Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko and told reporters he was "very hopeful some decision can be reached."

"We made some progress with respect to the problem of the secretary-general," Stevenson said as he left the Soviet mission headquarters on upper Park Avenue. Gromyko left later for Moscow.

Stevenson was scheduled to see Soviet delegate Valerian A. Zorin this afternoon in what American sources described as a continuing series of talks on the problem of a successor for the late Dag Hammarskjöld.

The United States and the Soviet Union are reported agreed on Ambassador U Thant of Burma as an interim successor, but they differ on how he should function in that office.

The Soviet Union has insisted on an evenly matched group of Western-Communist and neutralist deputies with whom the secretary-general would have to consult before making any decisions. The United States contends there should be no check on the secretary-general's authority.

U Thant is reluctant to accept the post unless the Soviet Union and the Western powers agree on his powers.

In the assembly, Cuban Foreign Minister Raul Roa in a policy speech this afternoon was expected to make a slashing new attack on the United States, charging the Washington government is training a new invasion force to attack Fidel Castro's regime and is trying to torpedo Cuba's relations with other nations as an invasion preliminary.

Four Drivers Cited After City Mishaps
No one was injured but considerable property damage resulted and four drivers were arrested following four traffic mishaps on city streets Monday.

Douglas A. Turner, 62, of RD 2, Lisbon Rd., Salem, was cited by police for driving while intoxicated after he was involved in a three-car accident on S. Ellsworth Ave. near Railroad St. at 11:20 p.m.

Police said Turner, driving a car owned by the T. R. Timblin Co. of Sharon, Pa., was traveling south on S. Ellsworth when he rammed into the rear of a parked car which in turn was pushed into the rear of another parked auto.

The parked cars involved are owned by Stanley L. Howell of Warren and Donald J. England of 584 Woodland Ave. Turner's and Howell's cars were damaged considerably. England's station wagon received slight damage to the rear bumper and door.

Turner was released on a $150 bond, pending a hearing before Mayor Dean B. Cranmer.

Donald R. Anderson, 33, of 292 W. 5th St., was cited for failure to stop in the assured clear distance. Police said he was headed east on State St. and ran into the rear of a car operated by Virginia Bowman, 57, of 183 E. Salem St., Columbiana, which had stopped for a red light at the Ohio Ave. intersection. The accident occurred at 1:07 p.m.

Considerable damage was caused to both vehicles involved in a two-car collision at the intersection of Newgarden Ave. and Arch St. at 11:05 p.m.

Police said Irey Birdwell May, 62, of 676 E. 3rd St., pulled off Arch St. onto Newgarden Ave. into the path of an auto operated by Donna Rose Krebs, 34, of 1016 Liberty St. May was cited for failure to yield the right of way.

Ernest W. Rea of RD 3, Salem, was cited for failure to stop in the assured clear distance after his car collided with an auto driven by Jacob Sergeuk, 20, of Salineville, on S. Lincoln Ave. near Olive St. at 4:13 p.m.

Police said Sergeuk had stopped for two cars turning onto Olive St. when Rea took his eye off the street for a second and ran into the rear of the Salineville man's car.

Commissioners Okay Travel Expenses

LISBON — Columbiana County commissioners approved travel allowances for three departments at their meeting Monday. Expenses were approved for:

Judge Louis Tobin and one of his staff to attend a meeting of the Division of Mental Health at Massillon Oct. 18.

Judge Luther Donbar of Columbiana to attend the county judges meeting in Columbus Oct. 18.

Six persons in the welfare department to attend the Ohio welfare conference in Cleveland Oct. 16.

East Liverpool was given $31 for 62 dogs destroyed there during September.

The commissioners' next meeting will be Thursday from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

PENALIZED BY COURT

LISBON—William Figley of East Liverpool pleaded guilty to a lesser charge of assault and battery and was fined $200 and costs and sentenced to six months in the county jail by Judge Joel H. Sharp Tuesday. The fine and sentence were suspended upon his good behavior by the court.

Figley was charged with aggravated assault on James Taylor in a fight near a houseboat along the river bank in East Liverpool. James Taylor of East Liverpool charged with a similar assault on Figley, is expected to plead to a lesser charge Wednesday, authorities said.
